GLASS COATINGS

Glass Bottle Coatings

BRILLIANT, LONG-LASTING COLOR

SUNDIAL Bottle Coatings are an innovative process for producing durable, long-lasting environmentally friendly color for cosmetic bottle applications. Our depth of powder coating expertise lead to our solving the problem of premature curing of UV nail gel caused by light penetration through glass.

Using proprietary methods, we are able to create an adhesive bond between powder and glass...no small feat, given that no natural electrostatic attraction exists. Our process ensures precise coverage and full protection while eliminating streaking and uneven distribution that result in unbalanced bottle weight. Our highly chemical-resistant powder formula is impervious to nail polish chemicals.

SUNDIAL's precise color matching technique can virtually replicate the color of the polish inside the bottles so consumers can see the color they are choosing. Compared to liquid coatings, powder coating offers a greater shelf life, works more reliably and preserves the original diameter of the bottle neck threads. Because powder coating is an eco-friendly solution, nail polish manufacturers can also tout this environmentally safe process for their industry.

FULLY CUSTOMIZED DESIGNS

When powder coating a nail polish bottle or any other glass cosmetic container one is limited only by one's imagination. SUNDIAL can customize a wide range of colors and blended hues to match any unique color including various metallics and textures. Should you need to differentiate various lines by color or design, we can also create an entirely original look for your container applying unique graphic treatments together with your logo and any special design or lettering.

GRAPHIC APPLICATIONS

SUNDIAL Bottle Coating is more than an assembly line powder coating service. We have spent countless hours of research, perfecting our craft and developing the proper formula for maximum effectiveness. We also offer a full complement of design and graphics services that will result in a highly original nail gel bottle. We offer pad printing, silk-screening, labeling and deco design. If you have a unique logo, brand identity or corporate style, we can duplicate your graphics and messaging and render them perfectly on your powder-coated bottles.

“SUNDIAL can create an entirely original look for your container using your designated graphic treatments, logo and lettering.”
